THREE ARE CHARGED WITH DESERTION OF THEIR CHILDREN

Three wife desertion and child desertion cases came up before Special Judge Charles Metzger in the city court yesterday. Ezra Annett of Elkhart, through his attorney, Willard Chester, appeared before Metzger, waived arraignment and entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of child desertion preferred by his wife, Thelma. He furnished a $500 bond for his appearance on Wednesday.

James Mitchell of Auburn Junction, also furnished satisfactory bonds for his appearance in the local court on Oct. 1. He is charged with wife and child desertion and was arrested on the complaint of Miss Ives, father of Mrs. Mitchell.

JAILED—FREED AND JAILED AGAIN

The way of the transgressor is indeed a hard and rocky road, according to Angel Hazaras, wanted in Charleston, W. Va., on a charge of wife desertion. Hazaras was arrested Thursday afternoon, released Friday morning and rearrested Saturday afternoon by Chief Pfender on an order from Judge Montgomery in the superior court. Atty Isaac K. Parks secured a writ of habeas corpus Friday directing Chief Pfender to produce Hazaras in Judge Montgomery's court Monday morning, claiming that the prisoners had been spirited out of the county.

Chief Pfender scoffs at the allegations made by Atty Parks. "I released Hazaras," he stated, "because I did not believe he was wanted. As soon as I learned of Judge Montgomery's order I promptly rearrested him, and he's now in the county jail."

MANAGER SENER PLANS BIG PROGRAM

Manager Senger, of the Century theater, is planning an unusual bill for the three days of Mishawaka's first annual style and fashion show, to be staged Sept. 23, 24 and 25. Due to lack of suitable space and to the fact that the decision for the style show was reached only recently, Manager Senger offered the use of the use of the Century theater stage. In addition to the revue on the Century theater stage, there will be a series of private exhibitions.

CENTURY VAUDEVILLE

The Century theater started its 12th successful season last Friday night with an excellent combination bill of vaudeville and pictures which will be repeated this afternoon and tonight.

There are four variety acts offered, with Jim McIntyre and company carrying headline honors with their novelty fantasy. This is a comedy novelty act in which the star assumes the character of "a son of the soil" with great comedy effect. He is cleverly assisted by two pretty girls who add their personal charm to the laughable situations. Dan Holt and company offer a singing, dancing and talking act entitled "Just From Georgia." Mr. Holt has been connected with a number of the leading minstrel organizations of the country, but is now working in white-face. Polly Holt, an accomplished violinist, is prominent in the support of the star. Gilmore Corbin, an individual entertainer, introduces bright comedy bits in song and story form. He was recently with Leo Dietrichstein in "Toto," a present Chicago success. Jack Bird, presenting his original Australian whip and rope act, faithfully reproduces the atmosphere of the Antipodes and demonstrates in a skillful and effective manner the use of the Australian bull whip. "If Only Jim," featuring Harry Carey, is the five-reel photoplay which is also on the program. Similar in theme to Charlie Chaplin's great success, "The Kid," this picture has a western atmosphere and has for its principal characters a good-for-nothing miner of the days of '49, and a deserted youngster whom he adopts and cares for as his own. One of the delightful things about the story is the genuine devotion shown for the star by his clever little co-player, Tommy Smith. A Century comedy, "Playmates," introduces the wonder dog, Brownie.

A quintet of female loveliness that would attract the attention of the most blasé theater-goer assists Billy Lightelle, who toplines the program of vaudeville which starts Thursday
